

Alan Eusden, Director

Mr. Eusden joined the Corning Museum of Glass in September 2014 as Chief Operating Officer, leading the Museum's business operations. Mr. Eusden is responsible for oversight of the earned income, community relations, hot glass, finance and advancement areas of the Museum.

Prior to joining the Museum, Eusden held the role of chairman and president of Corning Display Technologies Taiwan. He held multiple financial roles and led several key business areas of Corning Incorporated since 1983.

Mr. Eusden has helped lead fundraising campaigns and been on the boards of several regional non-profits as well as the board of Elmira College. Mr. Eusden holds a bachelor's degree in economics with a concentration in environmental studies from Williams College, and earned an MBA from the Fuqua School of Business at Duke University.